

Seat China Despite Wall Street!

By WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

AT HIS PRESS CONFERENCE last Wednesday, President Eisenhower loosed a blast against the admission of People's China into the United Nations. He says he is "completely and unalterably" against the seating of that country because it is at war with the UN; because it has been declared an aggressor; because it has aided the people of Indochina in their fight against the French, etc., etc.

The President's bill of particulars is a series of cynical misrepresentations. If the Chinese got into the Korean War it was plainly is self-defense — MacArthur was storming up to their borders, obviously intending to keep on going, threatening China, when they stopped him cold, as any self-respecting people under the circumstances would have done. If People's China was unjustly declared an aggressor by the UN this was clearly at the instigation of American imperialism, which at the time was leading the United Nations around by the nose. And if the Chinese people have felt an active sympathy for the fight of the people of Indochina, all the more credit to them for that. It is a national disgrace for the American people that our country officially finds itself on the side of French imperialism in this "dirty war."

EISENHOWER'S false charges against People's China come with especially poor grace from him. For both his own and the Truman Administration have been guilty of a whole series of inexcusable barbarities and aggressions in Asia. It was the Truman government that ordered the dropping of A-Bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, needlessly butchering several hundred thousand peoples; both the Truman and the Eisenhower governments tried their utmost to develop the Korean War into a great Asian atomic war and were prevented from doing so only by a world outcry of horror and protest; the Eisenhower government, with shameless arrogance, is now trying openly to wreck the peace efforts at the Geneva Conference and to expand war into a broad atomic conflagration in Asia; and it is an indisputable fact that, supporting Chiang Kai-shek, American policy is to embroil China in a great civil war. Other similar atrocities could be cited. Mr. Eisenhower's pretended moral indignation at the seating of People's China in the UN is only imperialist arrogance and hypocrisy.

The President does not see "how it (the admission of China) can be done." But Britain can see it, and so can France, not to mention a whole string of other nations—the USSR, India, Pakistan, Indonesia, etc. It is safe to say that the governments of at least 75% of the totality of the peoples of the world favor bringing People's China into the United Nations. The reactionaries now heading the United States government will willy nilly, also have to "see" the point about China.

THE MAIN PURPOSE of the violent stand of the Eisenhower Administration against the admission into the UN of People's China is to keep open the door for the great civil war that it is now trying to organize in China, as a part of its world conquest strategy. If the American people had a fair chance to express themselves on all this, there can be no doubt but that they would repudiate Wall Street's arrogant attempt (which is State Department policy) to dictate to the 600,000,000 Chinese people just what kind of government they may or may not have.

The persistent attempts of the Eisenhower government to undo and reverse the great Chinese revolution is politically ridiculous, as well as dangerously reactionary and it must fail. People's China, which has fired for good Wall Street's friends, the Chiang Kai-shek bums, is already a great world power, whether Eisenhower likes it or not. Its recognition diplomatically by the various countries and by the United Nations is one of the major requirements for the easing of international tension and the establishment of peace.

This is why more and more nations are coming to the inevitable conclusion that the great new Chinese Republic must be allowed to take its proper seat in the United Nations, now usurped by the Chiang Kai-shek bandits and crooks. Nor can this trend be terrorized into reverse by the desperate threats of Senator Knowland and others to pull this country out of the UN if the Chinese are seated.

It is high time that labor and the broad masses of the American people take part in this affair and extend a hand of greeting to their friends, the great Chinese people.
